INCORPORATE HERE FOR '63 CENTENNIAL

The Adams County court Tuesday gave its approval for incorporation of the Gettysburg Centennial Corporation, for a ten-year period, as a nonprofit corporation. The corporation is formed by the members of the state commission set up for the observance of the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's address here.

Approval was given by the court to the divorce of Clarence R. Thompson, 215 Chambersburg St., from Ruth P. Thompson, whose last address was given as Clinton, S. C. The divorce provides that Mrs. Thompson is forbidden to wed the respondent.

Approval was given to discontinuance of the divorce action brought by Leroy Charles Milhimes against Grace Irene (Smith) Milhimes.

COSTS ON COUNTY
Robert L. Bupp, Aspers, before the court for failure to pay $79.45 representing the balance on costs and a fine, was directed to pay $6 per week until the amount is paid in full and was told that he will go to jail the first week he misses a payment.

A desertion and nonsupport charge against Richard H. Bonawitz, Aspers R. 1, was dismissed and the costs placed on the county. The court, noting that the charge had been brought at the direction of the Department of Public Assistance observed that it wished it could put the costs on the department but since it could not the costs would have to be paid by the county.

James E. Smith, near Hampton, was directed to pay $30 per week for the support of his wife and seven children following a desertion and nonsupport hearing. He was also directed to pay the costs and post the usual $500 bond.

Henry E. Vincent, 46 E. Water St., was directed to pay $15 per week for the support of two children following a hearing. He was also directed to pay the costs and enter the usual $500 bond.

8 COMMITTEES ON SA SERVICE ARE SELECTED

Chairmen of the eight Salvation Army year round "service units" in Adams County were announced today by Roland W. Keller, service extension director for the Salvation Army, as the annual campaign for funds got underway.

The eight "year round" local committees stand ready at all times to "render immediate assistance to the less fortunate of the area," Keller said. "Each committee consists of at least five local individuals who serve throughout the year."

In connection with the annual campaign to raise $7,666.20 in the county the various service unit chairmen will head the fund drive in their own communities with the help of volunteer workers residing in their communities.

The local chairmen are listed as: Abbottstown, Mrs. Naomi Meckley; Biglerville, Miss Jean Thomas; East Berlin, Mrs. Hazel Hoffman; Fairfield, Mrs. Otto Kroeger; Gettysburg, G. Marion Stambaugh; Littlestown, Samuel H. Higginbotham; New Oxford, Charles E. Slaybaugh; and York Springs, Mrs. R. L. Pittenutr.

Keller explained that there are no local overhead expenses in connection with the operation of the service units because each member works on a voluntary basis and thus receives no remuneration for his services.

During the last year 992 families received assistance from the eight local "service units." Assistance included grocery orders for families, rent paid for families, meals for transients, lodging for transients, fuel, clothing, utilities, transportation, Christmas assistance, wheel chairs and even personal counseling and guidance.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Wagner Act Held Valid: The Supreme Court upheld in an epochal decision today the right of the National Labor Relations Board to regulate employers-employee relationship in businesses engaged in interstate commerce. The nine justices decided unanimously that activities of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation contributed to interstate commerce. The court also held the Wagner Act constitutional as applied to the Associated Press and the Washington, Virginia and Maryland Coach Co. These findings prompted immediate speculation over whether the court action would affect President Roosevelt's efforts to obtain passage of legislation to reorganize the tribunal.

Communism Attacked: Speaking at a joint rally of the Gettysburg Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name Society of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church Sunday evening, the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Thorne, professor of sociology and social history at Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg, and vice-chairman of the Catholic Association for International Peace, described the life and career of Joseph Stalin, dictator of Soviet Russia, as "a phenomenon of the first order in respect of industry, determination and the ruthless extermination of all opposition. 'There will be no compromise within or outside the Soviet Union in the sphere of religion, warned the speaker. 'Atheism is integral to the Soviet ideology. The communist hierarchy may compromise on phases of capitalistic practice such as profits, wage differentials and bonuses for expert workers; they may permit modifications in the methods of collective farming; they may even find it expedient to soft-pedal the activities of the Third International in England and the Far East; but in the sphere of conscience there will be neither reconciliation nor adjustment. Communism will cease to be communism before it gives up or even dismisses its attack on the sacred majesty of God.

Accepts Position: Harry E. Price of Scranton has accepted a position as pharmacist at the Peoples Drug Store. Mr. Price has been in the drug business for 20 years and is a graduate of Temple University.

Named Head Of County YWCA: Mrs. Walter H. Danforth was elected president of the board of directors of the Adams County YWCA at the annual organizational meeting on Monday evening. She succeeds Mrs. Charles F. Sanders. The other officers who were elected include: Vice President, Mrs. W. C. Waltemyer; secretary, Mrs. Lloyd C. Keefe; treasurer, Mrs. John Pape.

Licensed To Preach: William Kadel, of Gettysburg, a student at the Western Seminary, Pittsburgh, was licensed to preach after being examined at the two-day spring session of the Carlisle Presbytery held in the Presbyterian Church of Carlisle.

Dinners For Only 25 Cents: Menu for tomorrow: Swiss Steak; Lamb Stew, country style; Creamed Chip Beef on Toast; Chow Mein; Chop Suey. The Sweetland Good Place to Eat, Nick's.

Firemen To Attend Funeral: The Gettysburg Fire Company noted on their minutes their appreciation for the services of Andrew M. Becker, oldest member of the local company, who died here Tuesday evening at the age of 84. The firemen will go in a group to the Becker home this evening to view the body and six of them will serve as pallbearers at the funeral. They will act in their firemen's uniforms. Mr. Becker will be interred in his own uniform, purchased by him from the company for that purpose. Selection of the pallbearers had been made by the deceased.

Today's Talk

DON'T LOOK BACK

I once read in my newspaper of a very noted man who was much beloved by those who knew him. The story was of his suicide. He was a banker. He was honest. But the dishonesty of a single man whom he had befriended, but who had betrayed this trust, evidently preyed upon his mind.

Any man who looks back too much is sure to add to his worries and perhaps wreck an otherwise happy and useful life.

The weak look back. The strong look ahead.

Yet it is quite often the case that the strong make the most mistakes, since the direction of the strong is usually ahead and not behind.

If you have ever driven a car over rough or dangerous roads, you will recall that your eyes were ahead and not behind.

The most serious job in this world is the piloting of a human soul. Danger. Discouragement. Failure. All along the way you encounter obstacles. But there are lovely, smooth roads for long distances, too. And it is while traveling these that we appreciate life and the strong lesson that the things of combat are able to give.

Don't look back! Review your mistakes! Remember them for reference purposes only. Look them over occasionally, but never lead them along with you.

Joseph Conrad once wrote: "Don't look back, for indeed the only way to overcome injustice whether of men or fate, is to disregard it."

Yes, there are a great many things to look back upon. The beautiful things and happy remembrances will always add fragrance to your days, but the others — go on as though they never were!

There are more wonderful things ahead than any man is able to dream about.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Flame Of Enthusiasm"

Air Mail Test Flight: A heavy steel claw, dangling from the end of a 125-foot cable, snatched the first bag of air mail from Gettysburg from between two upright poles on the Forney Field at 12:35 o'clock this afternoon as a Stinson monoplane roared across the field on the first flight of the experimental trans-Pennsylvania air mail pickup and delivery service. The bag, containing over 300 letters, and the ropes that supported it between the 25-foot poles were yanked clear of their fastenings and quickly drawn into the plane that continued on its eastward journey with little slackening of its 100-mile clip. A crowd of several hundred persons watched from the landing field and the avenues that border it. The witnesses included Postmaster C. A. Williams, his assistant George P. Black, and Dr. Lytle S. ## HUGE ROCKET EXPLODES ON LAUNCHING PAD

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Air Force plans of developing the advanced Atlas F series missile for deployment in underground launching silos this year have been jolted by the explosion of one of the rockets on its launching pad.

An Atlas F blew apart Monday just as the engines ignited to boost the intercontinental range vehicle on an intended 5,000-mile test flight to the South Atlantic Ocean.

No one was hurt in the fiery blast, but extensive damage was done in the launching area, the only one available for test-firing the F model.

$1 MILLION DAMAGE

The Air Force said extent of damage could not be determined for several days, but unofficial estimates placed it at about $1 million and said the pad would be out of service for several months.

Officials had hoped to wrap up the F test program with about 10 more launchings, all in 1962. The last two missiles in the series fell short of their intended 5,000-mile range because of suspected trouble during separation of the two booster engines.

The Atlas F is designed for prolonged storage in hardened underground launch tubes. The earlier D and E Atlas missiles, now operational, are stationed on surface launching pads.

BALL ALMOST HITS KENNEDY

WASHINGTON (AP)—He almost got beamed and did get caught in a lashing downpour—but President Kennedy had himself a fine time at the ball park and hopes to return for more.

He enjoyed the Washington Senators' 4-1 opening day baseball victory Monday over the Detroit Tigers so much, in fact, he put off business at the White House and stayed to the finish.

Back at the mansion, aides talked over trouble in Southeast Asia with Laotian Ambassador Tiao Khampan while the President rooted for the home team at Washington's magnificent new stadium.

The ambassador was aware the game had been delayed by rain and obligingly agreed to a half-hour postponement of his 5 p.m. appointment. Subordinates filled in until the President showed up with apologies at 5:30.

ESCAPES DRENCHING

It wasn't all fun. Kennedy threw out the first ball, grabbed by Washington pitcher Marty Kutyna. A half-hour later he had to duck through the Senators' dugout to escape a drenching from the rain that delayed play for 22 minutes.

Kennedy spent the recess in the umpires' dressing room, chatting baseball with ump Joe Paparella and Hank Soar and E. R. Quesada, president of the Washington Club.

He ducked again in the fourth inning—this time in his seat—to avoid a lofty foul pop from the bat of Washington outfielder Willie Tasby that threatened to go down as the first presidential beanball in history.

PONTIUS PILATE

"Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him."

—John XIX:4

Pontius Pilate, who became procurator of Judea under Tiberius Caesar in A.D. 26, was a product of Roman society during the early Empire.

He was military in bearing, tactless, skeptical, arbitrary. Almost from the first day of his arrival in Judea, there existed an implacable hatred between him and the people he ruled.

He regarded the Jews with haughty contempt. From his point of view, they were a superstitious, refractory rabble, wrangling among themselves over religious usages for which he felt only a profound scorn.

Twice before the trial of Jesus, he had been forced to yield to the will of the populace, or risk open rebellion that might cost him his position.

The first time occurred when he brought army standards bearing the likeness of the Roman emperor into Jerusalem, thus profaning the holy city. After five days of uproar and rioting, he removed them.

On another occasion, the Jews forced him to remove a set of Roman votive tablets from Herod's palace, which he occupied in Jerusalem. The people appealed that time directly to Tiberius, who ordered them taken back to Caesarea.

Pilate knew that Jesus was innocent. He had secret spies among the people who had reported almost daily on the Nazarene's activities.

Moreover, there is good reason to believe that Pilate's wife, Claudia Procula, had actually met Jesus, and was one of His secret followers.

During the trial, she sent Pilate a message, warning him to "have nothing to do with that just man."

But, "when Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this man."

In the most critical decision of his career, the "fearless" Roman had again bowed to the shouting, factious, bloodthirsty mob.

Tradition says he never forgot this tragic hour. A few years afterward, in exile, "wearied with misfortunes," he killed himself.

hospital and was found to be suffering from shock and bruises.

An East German policeman escaped to the West during the night by running through a subway tunnel, West Berlin police reported. He was a member of the transport police, responsible for patrolling railroad installations. He was in uniform and brought his pistol with him.

The Western police disclosed the escape route because the East German authorities evidently had discovered it.

EQUALITY FOR HUMANS TO BE SCHOOL GUIDE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania educators will soon be receiving a brand new guidebook showing ways and means for weaving the concepts of racial, religious and ethnic equality into everyday teaching.

The 106-page book, entitled "A Teacher Guide for Human Relations Education for Pennsylvania Schools" was endorsed Monday by the State Human Relations Commission.

Basic philosophy of the long-awaited manuscript is: "No racial or ethnic group is inherently superior in ability to any other."

The guide has been in the works now for almost two and a half years as a joint project of the Human Relations Commission and the State Public Instruction Department's Committee on Human Relations.

TOLERANCE FOR MINORITIES
It is designed to show teachers in both elementary and secondary schools how to incorporate the teaching of tolerance for minority groups in their curricula.

Next step is the distribution of the new guides to school administrators and teachers across the state. The guide also will become a part of the curriculum at colleges offering teacher training.

Highlighted in the 106-page manual are classroom techniques for passing on the philosophy of equality to school children, administrative programs for developing the teaching of tolerance in the classroom and reference sources for obtaining further information on the subject.

TO DEVELOP PROGRAM
More than 120 persons worked on the guide including specialists from other states whose opinions and help was solicited.

Among the things it suggests for administrators is to appoint a specialist to develop the program in each school system.

It also suggests that the administrators practice what they preach by having integrated teaching staffs.

The Human Relations Commission is a descendant of the Fair Employment Practices Commission. The old FEPC's duties were broadened by the 1961 legislature to encompass housing, public gathering places and educational institutions within the legal ban on discrimination. At that time the FEPC was given its present name.

The department committee on Human Relations was set up in 1958.

Albright Hands Bullet Nine 8-5 Loss; Johns Hopkins Here Thursday

The Gettysburg College baseball team dropped its third straight game in as many outings as the Lions of Albright scored early in the game and carried off an 8-5 decision here Tuesday afternoon.

Albright scored a pair of runs in the top of the first inning when Dick Castello walked, Gary Chapman was hit by a pitched ball and a wild throw by the catcher allowed both runners to score. Gettysburg cut the lead to 2-1 in the bottom of the second when Bill Jacobsen walked and stole second, King Gore got on via an infield miscue and Mark Snyder walked loading the bases. Tom Perkins then hit a sacrifice fly to left enabling Jacobsen to score.

Albright tallied three more runs in the third, one in the sixth and put the game on ice with two more in the seventh. The Bullets' second run came in the fifth when Ted Koerner belted a line triple to deep left center and came home on Paul Folkemer's infield hit. Gettysburg managed to produce another in the sixth and the final two in the bottom of the seventh.

Gettysburg had difficulty handling the ball, committing five errors. On the other hand Albright committed four. The Bullets were forced to play without the services of Frank Martin, first baseman, converting Bruce Sutcliffe from the outfield.

Ted Koerner started on the hill for the host club, but needed help from Bob Hinds in the seventh. Dennis Heppner went the distance for the visitors to capture the win while Koerner is charged with the setback.

Bob Geigleminio, Lion catcher, sparked the Albright attack with a trio of safeties while Gettysburg was permitted five scattered hits.

Gettysburg will be looking for its first victory of the year when it entertains Johns Hopkins University here Thursday afternoon in a 3 o'clock contest.

Champ's Jaw Breaks Boy's Hand

STREATHAM, England (AP) — Freddie Mills, former world light heavyweight champion, presented his rock-like jaw to 15-year-old John Block and said: "Go on. Hit me as hard as you like."

John — following the example of illustrious predecessors like Gus Lesnevich and Joey Maxim — obliged. Then he yelped. Instead of the ex-champ sagging to the canvas, John's own right paw dangled somewhat limply from the wrist.

A quick trip to the hospital confirmed that bones were broken.

Freddie, who had been distributing prizes at a Streatham youth center, could not have more upset.

"I do feel a bit of a bully," he said. "Fancy my chin doing that."

HOUSTON WINS OPENER OVER CHICAGO CUBS

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Shred talent appraiser Paul Richards, responsible for sticking his thumb into the National League draft bag for Houston's new entry, apparently pulled out two plums—pitcher Bobby Shantz and outfielder Roman Mejias.

Plucked by General Manager Paul Richards from the Pittsburgh roster at last year's special draft to stock the new NL clubs, the two castoffs reigned as Houston's first heroes after leading the Colts to an 11-2 victory over Chicago in their debut Tuesday.

Shantz, 36, pitched a strong game against the Cubs, checking the Chicagoans on five hits and keeping them away from the plate until he tired in the late innings. Meanwhile, the Colts were building a 5-0 edge.

HITS 2 HR'S

Mejias, 29, a utility man, who hit his last home run Sept. 13, 1959, connected twice for the Colts, blasting a three-run shot off Don Cardwell in the third and smacking another, with two on, off reliever Al Lary in the eighth. While the Colts were winning their debut, the New York Mets were rained out in their scheduled opener at St. Louis in a night game. They'll try to get under way tonight, sending Roger Craig against the Cards' Larry Jackson.

Elsewhere Tuesday, San Francisco opened with a 6-0 triumph over Milwaukee behind Juan Marichal's three-hit pitching. Cincinnati ruined Los Angeles' home opener before 52,564 fans with a 6-3 victory, and Pittsburgh's Bob Friend shut out Philadelphia 6-0 on five hits.

BANKS GETS 29TH

Shantz, American League Most Valuable Player in 1952 when he posted a 24-7 record for the then Philadelphia Athletics, was virtually untouchable until the 29th homer of Ernie Banks' career. Jim McKnight's triple, and a sacrifice fly by Lou Brock gave the Cubs single runs in the seventh and eighth innings. Hal Smith backed Mejias' efforts with another homer for the Colts.

Marichal, 24, a right-hander, gave up a single to rookie Howie Bedell in the third, then held the Braves hitless until Tommy Aaron and Frank Bolling singled in the ninth. He struck out 10 and contributed to the Giants' attack against Warren Spahn with two RBI on a double and single. Spahn, opening his bid for a 13th 20-victory season, left after 3 2-3 innings.

PHILLIES LOSE

With two out in the seventh, the score tied 2-2 and one on, the Dodgers elected to walk Frank Robinson to pitch to Wally Post. Post tagged the first pitch for Johnny Podres for a homer to win it for the Reds. Bob Purkey picked up the victory for Cincinnati.

Roberto Clemente hit a Jim Owens pitch for a grand slam homer in the third inning, and Don Hoak followed with a solo shot, that put it away for the Pirates. Friend struck out five and walked only one, with Tony Taylor's double in the fifth the lone extra base hit for the Phillies.

Ford Won't Build Small-Small Car

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. will not build a small-small car in the United States this year. It has decided not enough people are interested in buying such a car to make the gamble worth the odds.

In an unprecedented announcement Tuesday night, Henry Ford II called off the Cardinal project. He indicated plans were continuing to build the car in Ford plants abroad.

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris said he wasn't nervous. He expected to be, but he wasn't.

"This was the first time in my six years in the major leagues that I wasn't nervous on opening day," said the man who knows the spotlight will be on him all season because of his record-breaking 61 home runs last year.

"I don't know why I was so calm," Maris said. "Maybe it's because I decided not to let anything worry me this year. I made up my mind to forget all about last year and let this year take care of itself."

Maris gave every indication he felt right at home. In fact, he began where he left off last year, hammering a three-run homer in the fifth inning to help the Yankees defeat the Baltimore Orioles 7-6 in the champs' season opener Tuesday.

10 GAMES AHEAD

When Maris belted home run No. 1, a press box wag sang out. "That puts Roger 10 games ahead of Maris' record of 61." Roger did not hit his first home run last year until his team's 11th game.

Maris' thoughts following that right field blast off southpaw Billy Hoft were a little bit different.

"I said to myself, 'I'm glad that's over with.' Maris said later. "I had wondered how long I would have to wait for the first homer. After last year, you never know. It felt real good to get it."

"Now, please don't go writing that I'm going out for another home run record. The truth is I'm not even thinking about any records. I'm just going to keep swinging if the home runs fall in. There's nothing I can do about it. If I hit 'em right and get enough lift, I'll get my share of home runs. But you've got to have the breaks."

W.M. RALLIES IN NINTH TO DEFEAT MOUNT

A four-run rally in the last of the ninth inning enabled the Western Maryland College baseball team to snatch a 4-3 decision from Mt. St. Mary's in a Mason-Dixon Conference game Tuesday at Westminster.

After being held to two hits in the first eight frames, the Terrers took advantage of the wildness of George Amoss, Mount hurler, who had relieved Steve Morgan in the sixth.

A single by Charley Walker, walk and hit batsman loaded the bases. Amoss walked two more batters to force in two runs which brought on Mashur in relief. Len Biser then rapped a single to send the tying and winning runs across.

The Mount scored a run in the fourth inning on a single by Mike Allman, a stolen base and single by Tom Wahl. They added two more in the fifth. A walk, hit batsman and a wild pitch put runners on second and third. Steven Morgan bunted home one runner and Sharies Roy singled home the other.

The Mount, now 0-2, will meet Georgetown at Emmitsburg Saturday afternoon.

Friend Happy At Good Hurling Job

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Friend, the prosperous investment broker who dabs in pitching for the Pittsburgh Pirates, is back in the blue chips today.

The big right-hander, who had a disappointing 14-19 record last season and was battered around during spring training, blanked the Philadelphia Phillies 6-0 Tuesday in the Pirates' National League opener.

And he did it in relatively easy fashion, limiting the Phillies to five hits—only one for extra bases—and striking out five. He walked only the leadoff batter.

In the meantime, Roberto Clemente's grand slam homer and a single roundtripper by Don Hoak gave Friend plenty of breathing room.

"That was my best opener," said Friend, who has hurled six openers in his 12-year career with the Bucs. "I didn't have real good speed but I thought my slider was working well. And that defense was wonderful behind me."

HAD BACK TROUBLE

Plagued with back trouble throughout an eight-year career, Skowron spent the winter strengthening the ailing muscles with a specially designed series of exercises. He hit 28 homers last season and could join Maris and Mantle in a triumvirate of terror if he could avoid the doctor.

Maris, meanwhile, tagged home run No. 1, a three-run shot in the fifth off Billy Hoft.

Elsewhere, Dick Donovan got Cleveland off winging with a five-hitter that blanked Boston 4-0; Chicago edged Los Angeles 2-1, and Kansas City defeated Minnesota 4-2. Detroit and Washington were not scheduled.

SCHWALL IS LOSER

Skowron's game-winner came off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm and it drove in Elston Howard, who had doubled after Mantle's homer. Ralph Terry picked up the victory, taking the mound when 25-game winner Whitey Ford left after giving up eight hits and four runs in six innings. Relief specialist Luis Arroyo hurled the final inning for the Yanks.

Donovan, 34, acquired by the Indians, in the trade that sent Jimmy Piersall to Washington, made Mel McGaha's managerial debut a success with his stand-out performance. While Donovan was throwing blanks, Woody Held drove in two runs, and John Romano and Chuck Essegian scored twice each to hand Red Sox starter Don Schwall the loss.

Food Shortages Strangle Communist Countries Of World; Cuba, Surrounded By The Caribbean, Has To Ration Fish

EDITOR'S NOTE—On an island surrounded by limitless resources of the Caribbean, Cubans can't buy enough fish. Beans, poultry and many other staples always abundant before now are rationed. In this first of two articles, an Associated Press news analyst explains why communism in Cuba and throughout the Red world fails to satisfy the primary human requirement: Food.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Here is the recipe for an indigestible Communist stew:

Mix large quantities of rigid dogma with vast centralized bureaucracy. Spice liberally with fear, adding generous portions of cautious toadism. Garnish with red tape. Bring to a boil over slow-burning resentment.

Ever since it gained power in Russia in 1917, communism in country after country has meant belt-tightening—shortages of food and consumer goods.

Why has world communism's latest acquisition, the lush, fertile island of Cuba, been forced to impose rationing in a food crisis? Fantastically, even fish—on an island surrounded by the limitless resources of the Caribbean—is in short supply for Cubans.

LUST FOR POWER

These seem to be the answers:

1. Communist lust for power. Once having seized it, they require enormous investment in arms to secure and protect it.

2. A fever for rapid industrialization, with heavy industry which builds more power receiving the lion's share of the national wealth.

3. Ruthless extermination of all vestiges of the past.

4. Regimentation of the population, and with this the establishment of vast bureaucracies responsible only to the center.

5. Use of national resources for political purposes abroad.

6. Frequent passive resistance among farm populations.

DRENCHED WITH ARMS

Cuba is the latest case in point. As communism tightens on the island's six million people, results show up in shortages. Quickly, the nation is drenched with Red bloc arms. All resources, effort and manpower available are geared primarily to entrenching Red power.

Thus, men and women who should be producing are marching in swollen militia ranks, waving guns serving on more than 100,000 defense committees designed as a spy system to prevent counterrevolution, or populating the few in the center.

RUIN AGRICULTURE

As it did in other states seized by communism, agriculture in Cuba went through a convulsion. The thriving cattle industry was destroyed, farms and plantations were taken over by INRA, the Communist-controlled National Institute for Agrarian Reform. Innumerable bureaucratic government organizations designed to keep all power in the hands of 'easants were paid in scrip and required to trade only in state-run people's stores.

With the rise of the bureaucratic police state, with all the pressures and fears it brought, individual initiative was killed. The middle class was chased out of the country, and with it too many of Cuba's skilled, educated people.

Speeches of Cuban Communist leaders have a familiar, parrot-like sound, echoing the dismal recitations heard year after year in all other Red-ruled states.

The speeches concede developments like these:

Production of sugar, always the mainstay of Cuba's economy, is dropping steadily. There is a severe shortage of cane cutters. "Socialist Sundays" have been proclaimed, dragging people into service and forbidding workers on collectivized plantations to take that day off. Machinery is falling into disrepair at many a sugar center.

Distribution has gone haywire. Black beans, a staple of Cuban diet, spoil in warehouses. Beans are rationed, four ounces per person per week. With what beans that finally get into distribution, bureaucrats follow orders out the window. Thus in one chief, said the Communist INRA chief Carlos Rafael Rodriguez, "a degree of negative perfectionism" was achieved when the four ounces was broken up into two ounces of lentils and two ounces of black beans per person.

MEATLESS WEEKS

Distribution of meat is chaotic. There are districts which go without meat for weeks. The same applies to poultry, a favorite item of the Cuban diet.

Communist Hungary delivered refrigerator vans to Havana on an urgent basis. Rodriguez reported the chief of the "consolidated meat industry" didn't want them, so the "chief of the chicken section" grabbed all of them. Then, suddenly, all bureaucrats wanted the vans. None was available. Food spoiled.

The Cuban experience is by no means unique. It is a repetition of what has happened at one time or another in every Communist-ruled nation. Even today, more than half a century after communism first entrenched itself in Russia, the promise of abundance remains just a misty dream.

CLAIMS 4 PAINTINGS FORGERIES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Prof. Frederick Hart, head of the University of Pennsylvania's art department, has named four supposed old masters in the famed Barnes Foundation collection as forgeries.

Hart said Monday all four are attributed to Italian artists of the 14th and 15th centuries but actually were painted after 1900.

He said further that on visits to the art gallery in suburban Lower Merion since last fall he saw what he believes to be forged works of other periods and from other countries.

He emphasized, however, that he was limiting specific comments to the Italian period, in which he is held to be an expert.

At the same time Hart said he wanted to make clear that he detected no forgeries or misattributed paintings among the modern paintings, which make up the bulk of the Barnes collection and for which it is world-famed.

FINE COLLECTION

The late Albert Barnes, a physician, assembled the collection over many years and at his death left it to the Barnes Foundation. The collection is regarded as among the finest of such artists as Cezanne, Renoir and Matisse. Barnes included some of the so-called "old masters" to illustrate varying painting techniques.

Hart testified last Friday in Montgomery County Orphans Court that in his opinion several works in the collection were forgeries. He did not then elaborate and his testimony caused a sensation in art circles.

He said Monday, in a formal statement, that he decided to be more specific "in order to clear up any misunderstanding which

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—A new college sport takes its place today beside telephone-booth stuffing, bed pushing, bed floating, small-car cramming and darts. The sport is cigarette lighter lighting.

Beat the 34-minutes, 34 seconds of continuous lighter-burning achieved by Bobby Allen, member of Sigma Rho Chi fraternity.

Allen won in Class A competition with about 20 members of several fraternities, they announced Monday.

The collegians said the contest was supervised by two timers, two judges and two scorekeepers.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno indicated that he would reject a reported U.S. proposal to shift administration of West New Guinea from Dutch control to Indonesia over a two-year period.

Sukarno told a cheering crowd in the south Sumatran capital of Palembang that he holds to his pledge to put his government in control of the disputed territory by the end of this year.

"Who said I want to accept a two-year condition?" he asked.

TALKS FAIL

The U.S. proposal was advanced in an effort to get the Dutch and Indonesians back to the bargaining table. Dutch-Indonesian talks held near Washington with U.S. diplomat Ellsworth Bunker acting as neutral observer were broken off last month.

Sukarno said Indonesia prefers a peaceful settlement and is prepared to negotiate, but it will stick to his original timetable. He said the Netherlands has less than nine months to return West Irian (West New Guinea) to Indonesia. Otherwise, he said, "We will fight for our rights with all our means."

The reported U.S. proposal also met resistance at The Hague. Diplomatic sources said the Dutch are displeased because they feel the U.S. plan does not take into account the bona fide right of self-determination for the Papuan population. Dutch officials also were reported disturbed at Bunker's role, contending he had become a party to the dispute.

Lucius Clay To Be Berlin Advisor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay will shortly wind up his duties as President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin but will continue to serve as a special consultant to the President on Berlin policy, informants reported today.

Clay announced in Berlin that he would leave today for Washington for consultations with Kennedy. A spokesman said he would return to Berlin Monday.

The informants in Washington said Clay will go back to Berlin next weekend for a short time but that it is definite his assignment as Kennedy's special representative in the crisis-ridden city is coming to an end.

Clay, 65, undertook the job on a temporary basis last summer in the period of intense crisis following Communist construction of the wall sealing off East Berlin. Termination of the assignment apparently is related to the drop in tension which has followed the talks in Geneva last month between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Clay is expected to go back to work as chairman of the board of Continental Can Co. as soon as he can wrap up his affairs in Berlin.

Says Democrats
Not Understanding

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Rep. William W. Scranton, Republican organization choice for governor, says Democrats do not understand the major problem facing Pennsylvania today. He says it is industrial development.

Scranton, addressing a Luzerne County Republican dinner Tuesday night, repeated a promise he made several days ago to seek to put every Pennsylvanian to work at a good job, making money.

But, he added, "I have not, shall and will not make any high-flung promises of guaranteeing a job for every man. I have promised and am proud to promise that as governor we will make it our aim. The only way to make progress is to aim high."

Scranton, noting the efforts of Luzerne County and his home county of Lackawanna toward revitalizing their economies, said Pennsylvania as a state had lagged behind the nation during eight years of Democrat administration.

Johnny James of the Los Angeles Angels pitched 72 American League innings last season yet failed to win a game. He lost two decisions.

Reapportionment Problem To Go To Courts To Make The Legislature Take Action

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania courts will come to grips soon with the problem of deciding whether they can force the legislature to reapportion its districts.

The State Justice Department has indicated that in a few days it will ask the Dauphin County Court to put off three suits challenging the state's presently established legislative districts until the 1963 General Assembly considers the matter.

Part of the Commonwealth's case is expected to be based on the contention that the courts have no authority in legislative reapportionment. That was the crux of a similar Commonwealth argument three years ago. It was upheld, 5-2, by the State Supreme Court.

OPENED DOOR

But two weeks ago the U.S. Supreme Court opened the door to a new challenge of legislative reapportionment. It ruled that federal courts may consider challenges to state legislative apportionment when voters feel they are deprived of equitable representation.

A Justice Department source indicated that the Commonwealth will admit the facts brought in the three suits challenging Pennsylvania's legislative districts.

The facts are that Pennsylvania's 210 House and 50 State Senate districts are divided unequally on a population basis. The House was last redistricted in 1953. The Senate's last major redistricting was in 1906 and there was a minor change in 1922.

PHILLY HAS 8 SEATS

However, the Constitution again is in the picture, limiting Philadelphia to eight seats.

It is the Senate that usually draws the fire of reapportionment advocates. Districts range in size from 51,793 in Philadelphia's third district to a high of 553,134 in nearby Delaware County.

The State Constitution calls for reapportionment every 10 years on the basis of the most recent census. But there is no penalty for failure to act.

The legislature enacted a senatorial reapportionment plan in 1937 but it was thrown out by the courts because it failed to include a borough in Allegheny County.

The 1960 census counted Pennsylvania's population at 11,319,366. It is estimated to have grown to more than 11.5 million since then. The census defined rural population as that living in communities of less than 2,500. It totaled 3,217,315 in 1960. Of that total 469,037 lived in small towns between 1,000 and 2,500 population.

WATCHDOG GROUP

Total urban population was 8,102,051, of which 3,520,822 lived in what the census called central

Littlestown

STATE'S JUNIOR MISS COMING FOR PAGEANT

Cheryl Ann McMinn, Media, who was Pennsylvania's Junior Miss this year, will be present at the Adams County Junior Miss Pageant in the high school auditorium, Littlestown, on Saturday, May 5 to crown the winners of the County Pageant. Miss McMinn was the Delaware County entry in last year's pageant and was crowned Pennsylvania's Junior Miss in Reading last November. She has just returned from Mobile, Ala., where the National Pageant was held recently and where she was first place winner in the physical fitness division.

Local competition will take place on Thursday evening at 8:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium, following the All Sports banquet. Each of the eight entries from the Junior Class of Littlestown High School will present their talent act of three minutes and two contestants will be chosen as local entries in the county pageant, by secret ballot of the Lions Club members. Girls participating will be Judy Appeler, Joan Barton, Jo Ann Beamer, Gloria Bowers, Elaine Bridinger, Janice Evans, Kay Morehead and Robin Thomas. SEEK "IDEAL" JUNIOR

The purpose of the pageant is to select the ideal high school junior girl of Adams County, not a typical teen-ager girl or the most outstanding but the ideal, one whom every parent would be proud to have as a daughter; a girl chosen for her freshness, purity and ambition to make her life better and to further her education. The purpose is not to select a stately beauty as in other contests, but to select the ideal Junior Miss of Adams County.

It has been decided that the contestants should not wear floor-length formal gowns, but ballerina length, since that is the style currently popular with teen-age girls. Sports wear will be furnished by the Bon-Ton of Hanover for the entries or they may wear their own attire.

BROTHERHOOD MEETS

The Men's Brotherhood of St. John's Lutheran Church made plans to serve the annual mother and daughter banquet, at the monthly meeting held on Monday evening at the church. The men will prepare and serve the banquet on Monday, May 14, in the social hall. The Tuck-a-Batch Class will be in charge of the program and tickets. Committees for the affair were appointed as follows: Kitchen, Raymond Reinman, U. Ray Stuy, Oliver Erb and Ralph Wantz; dining room, C. Herman Boyd, Harold Cool, David Erb, Fred W. King; purchasing, Edgar A. Wolfe, Kenneth Eyer, Albert Starner and Kenneth Shanbrook.

The program opened with devotions in charge of Ronald Strevig, who led the responsive reading. The Brotherhood was sung by the cities, such as Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Another 3,034,763 lived in what the census termed urban fringe — suburbs and near-city farms.

One of the suits challenging the state's apportionment was filed by Philadelphia's Committee of 70, a citizens' watchdog group. The suit asks that the city's senators be elected on an at-large basis until the senatorial districts can be reapportioned.

Another suit was filed by Lee F. Driscoll, Ambler, Democratic congressional candidate in Montgomery County. He seeks a reapportionment on grounds his county is entitled to two senators and nine House members. It has one senator and six House members.

Marshall J. Seidman, Oreland, Democratic candidate for the House in Montgomery County's Third Legislative District, challenges the law which allows election of four representatives in the district on an at-large basis.

Truck Driver Is Cause Of Deaths

NEWVILLE, Pa. (AP) — State police say a Chicago truck driver was responsible for the fiery crash which killed him and three others last Sunday inside the mile long Tuscarora Tunnel on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Sgt. Mitchell Krivoski of the Newville State Police Barracks said Tuesday night new evidence in the tragedy indicates the driver, John A. Ault, attempted to pass a slow moving car and crashed head on with an oncoming westbound car in the two-lane tunnel.

The car spun around, skidded about 100 feet, crashed into the north side of the tunnel, then burst into flames, Krivoski explained. All three occupants were group, followed with prayer by the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns. An illustrated lecture on the "Growth and Development of Electrical Power" was given by William Bertolet, district manager of the Metropolitan Edison Co., and Miles Thomas, sales manager of MEC, and both of Hanover. The program was arranged by Noah Strevig, Ronald Strevig and Gary Strevig.

Routine business was conducted in charge of Edgar E. Yealy, president. Following reports, the meeting adjourned with group prayer. The banquet will replace the May meeting of the Brotherhood.

HOLD HOBBY NIGHT

Hobby Night was noted at the monthly meeting of the Arts and Crafts Club held in the social room of the Eagles Home, Monday evening. There were displays of ceramics, afghans, sewing, floral arrangements, and others, by the members. Mrs. Rhea Gingrow, president, was in charge of the business. The report of Mrs. Betty Ebaugh, secretary-treasurer, was heard.

Three new members were welcomed: Mrs. Mary Selby, Mrs. Charmaine Wisotzky and Mrs. Loraine Gerriek. The following standing program committee was appointed: Mrs. Evelyn Staveland, Mrs. Rhoda Gitt, Mrs. Dorothy Flinchbaugh and Mrs. Esther Feeser. Mrs. Mildred Roberts and Mrs. Betty Ebaugh were named to make inquiries about the club meeting at the Community Center. It was decided to hold meetings during the summer months and they will start at 8 p.m. instead of 7:30, beginning in May.

Mrs. Paul Tressler, McSherrytown, was present to give demonstrations and explain ceramics, both the greenware and finished product. Mrs. Tressler will conduct classes in ceramics next month at her home. Persons interested in attending should contact Mrs. Gingrow. Following the session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Gingrow and Mrs. Flinchbaugh. Mrs. Helen Garner and Mrs. Charmaine Wisotzky will be hostesses for the next meeting of the club on Monday, May 14.

killed. The truck, carrying 25 tons of beer, also caught fire.

Passing is prohibited in turnpike tunnels. The speed limit in the Tuscarora Tunnel is 35 miles an hour.

At first it was believed both the truck and the car had been traveling east at the time of the accident.

Krivoski said the new information came from eyewitnesses to the crash.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The editor of a Communist newspaper was sentenced Monday to six months in prison for inciting crimes and to an additional 15 days for defaming the royal government.

The editor, Sok Lay, was arrested in February with 13 others accused of plotting to overthrow the government. His newspaper was suspended.

The earliest telephone booths were furnished with curtains, screens and rugs, as well as a desk and writing implements.

Boxcar.

This is a Volkswagen Truck. It will hold 109 crates of beans or 246 gallons of alcohol.
Or 65 cases of beer or 73 tubs of butter. It will take a steer.
234 gallons of corn oil.
620 live chickens. Or 9 barrels of fish at 200 pounds a barrel.
You can take 212 gallons of milk in it. Also 14 live sheep.
32 bushels of rye (the crop).
And 36 bushels of walnuts.
26 bushels of popcorn still on the ear. Or 32 bushels shelled. (We don't know how much it will take, popped.)
It will take 1,800 pounds of ice.
325 suits.
Or a piano.
It loads like a boxcar through a doorway almost 4 feet wide. (For $80* extra, you can get doorways on both sides.)
But it doesn't park like a boxcar. Or even like other trucks.
It's only 9 inches longer than the Volkswagen Sedan. And only $300 more in price.
$1,895.00*
So you might say you get a prize in every box.

TONIGHT SHOW
GOOD AS PAAR

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A funny thing happened to NBC's "Tonight Show" during the week after the king of the insomniacs abdicated. The size of the audience remained just about the same as it was during Jack Paar's long reign. According to estimates of the American Research Bureau, a rating service, the "Tonight Show" last week, in the temporary custody of Art Linkletter, rang up a score almost identical to the weekly ratings Paar achieved—under quiet conditions. Paar's rating during the last week he was on the program was a couple of points higher than his normal average. But that was because the viewers of his final show were almost double the usual number.

WATCHING FROM HABIT
That Linkletter has been able to keep a large number of the population awake—or at least has kept a lot of television sets turned on into the midnight hours—perhaps will come as a great disappointment to the rabid Paar fans, and to Paar himself.

My own explanation is that many people are still watching purely from habit. Over the years, they grew accustomed to the Paar show and now find that it's impossible to turn off their sets and go to bed after the late news.

Add to these creatures of habit the large numbers of feminine viewers who have made Linkletter a successful daytime performer over the years, and the result is a sustained rating.

Recommended tonight: "American Landscape," NBC, 9-10 (EST)—folk music and folk lore in a special with Burgess Meredith, Chuck Connors and Phil Harris.

Fake Kidnapper
Given Five Years

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Kenneth Lee Davis, 18, who pleaded guilty last February to attempting to extort $25,000 from a Du Pont executive with a fake report of kidnapping his son, has been sentenced to five years in prison.

President Judge Charles L. Terry Jr., who pronounced sentence Tuesday, told Davis: "I'm going to give you the limit." Davis admitted falsely informing Henry H. Cabot and his wife he had kidnapped their son, Meade, also 18. A check with Washington & Lee University in Lexington, Va., where the son is a student, proved the report a hoax. Cabot is products manager in Du Pont's poly-chemical department.
